Note: By putting down a deposit on a puppy , I _____ the buyer understand that I am COMMITTING to buy this puppy, and that this deposit is therefore NON-REFUNDABLE. Refunds: The seller has the right to cancel this contract at any time before the puppy pick-up(with return of a deposit). This refund is only applicable if seller cancels this contract. I understand that the deposit is a commitment to buying a puppy and is not refundable if I change my mind. There are several reason for this, such as the fact that other potential families may not put a deposit down because of the number of reservations ahead of them. When a buyer backs out , there are also typically additional expenses incurred in seeking out a replacement home and caring for the puppy in the mean time. For these and other reasons , there will be no refund of the deposit if buyer backs out.
